

In Search of a Web / Graphic Designer

Job Description

This is a part-time freelance position with potential for growth. As a web / graphic designer you will work remotely and contribute a strong sense of graphic design, layout, color and style, as well as a deep appreciation for simple, elegant, usable websites. Excellent attention to detail and the time management skills to meet or exceed deadlines are crucial for your success in this position. The designer must also possess an innate ability to listen to, understand, and translate a client's requests into a variety of marketing materials including websites, print, email marketing and social media. Are you an adaptable designer who learns quickly, communicates clearly, and has a passion for designing great websites? If the answer is yes, I want to talk to you!
